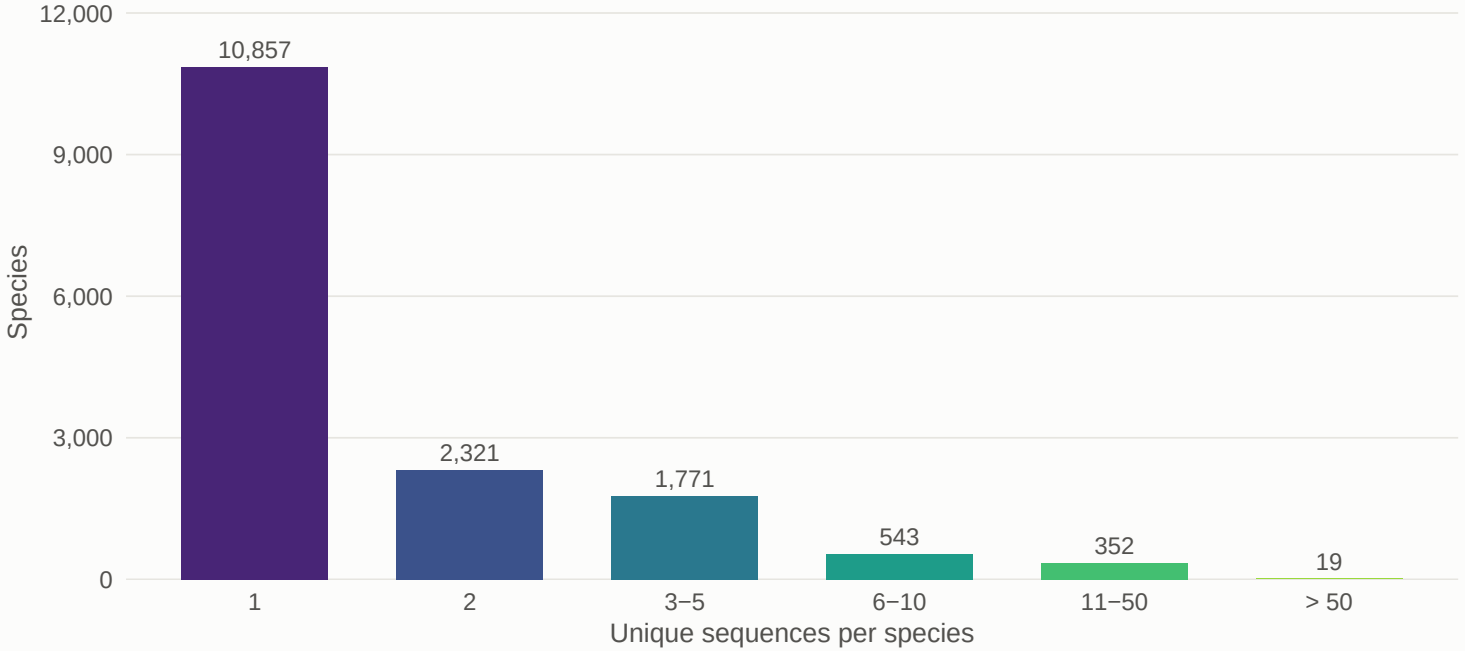
68.4% of species have a single reference sequence


Distribution of the 15,863 species by number of unique sequences