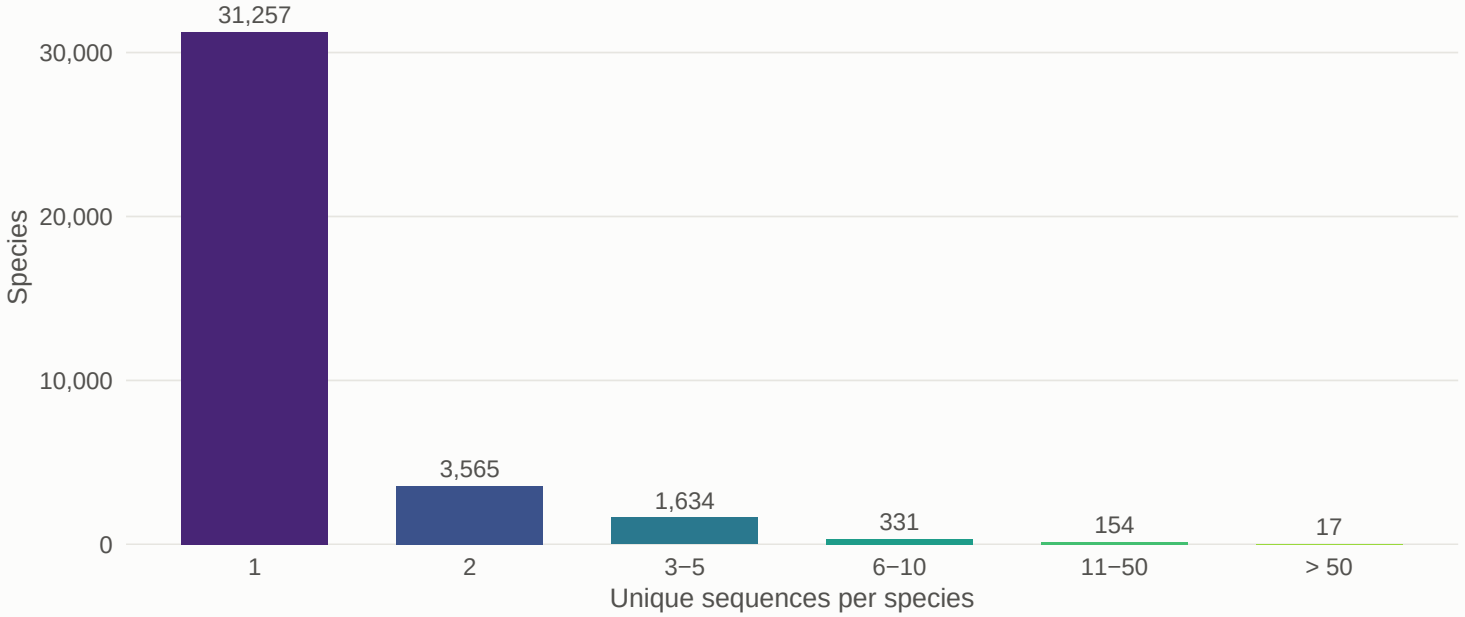
84.6% of species have a single reference sequence


Distribution of the 36,958 species by number of unique sequences