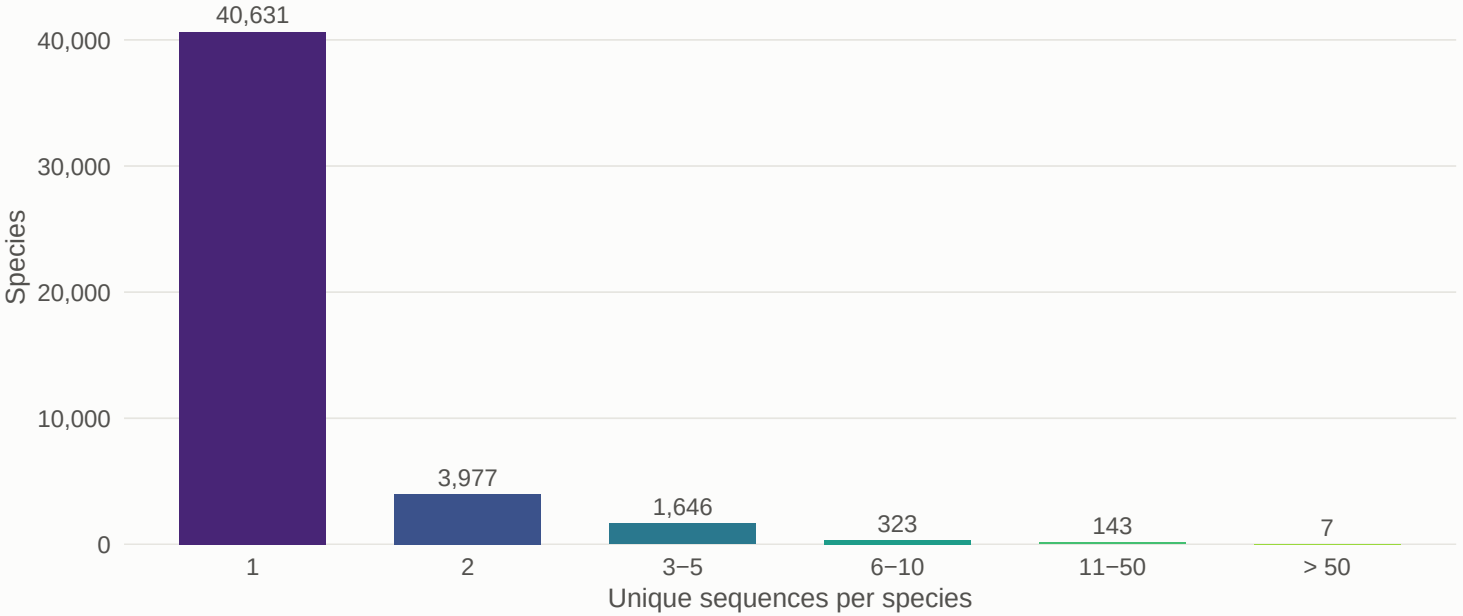
87% of species have a single reference sequence


Distribution of the 46,727 species by number of unique sequences