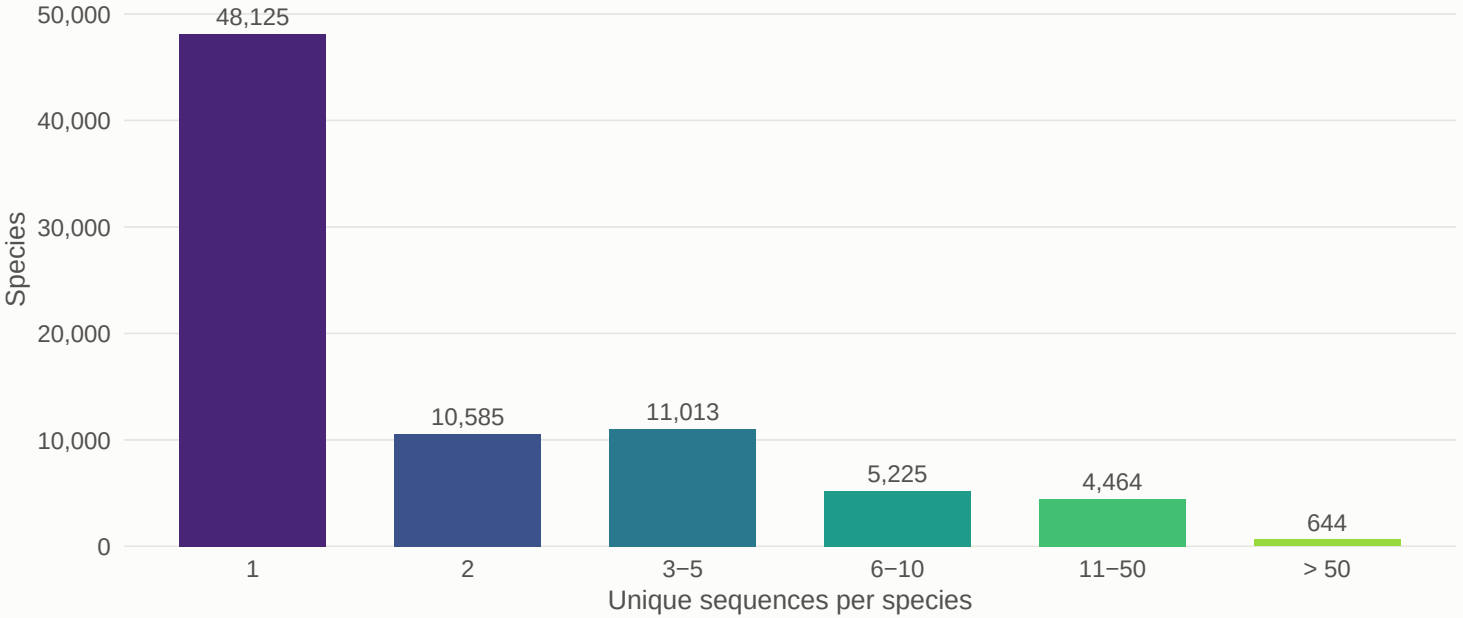
60.1% of species have a single reference sequence


Distribution of the 80,056 species by number of unique sequences