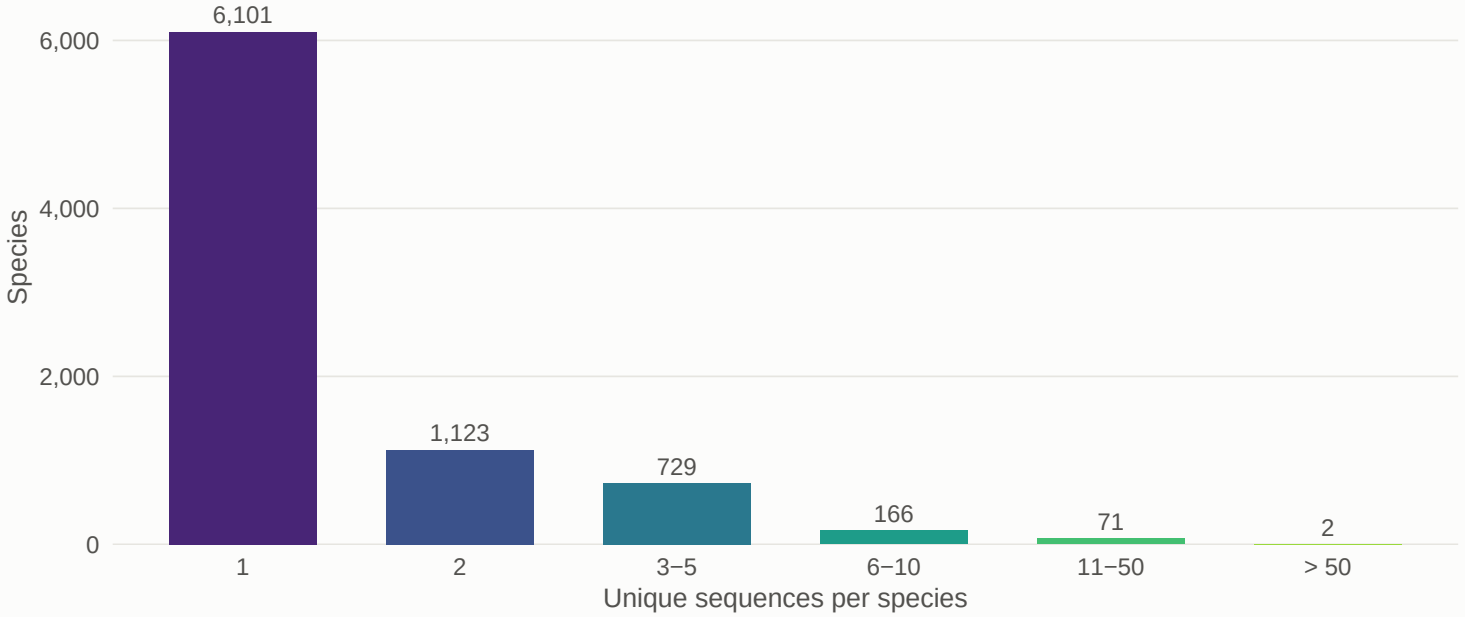
74.5% of species have a single reference sequence


Distribution of the 8,192 species by number of unique sequences